

Tuesday, May 7th, 2019, 12:15 p.m.

Adam-Kuckhoff-Str. 35, SR 2

WHAT EUROPE CAN AND SHOULD NOT TRANSFER FROM AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES

CHARLES McCLELLAND

Charles E. McClelland is an American scholar who explores German history from a transatlantic perspective. His first book - The German Historians and England (Cambridge UP) - was published in 1971. His latest – Berlin, the Mother of all Research Universities (2016) – focuses on the history of Humboldt Universität and documents his lifelong passion for archival research. In 2017 David Cahan called our guest "one of the leading scholars of German universities and professionalism in Germany."

In his talk Charles McClelland will address the question whether Germany should look at American institutions of higher education as models or not.

GUEST LECTURE

Charles McClelland
Prof. Emeritus (History)

The University of New Mexico
Albuquerque, N. M. (USA)

Currently Associate Faculty
Member of the Institute for the Medical Humanities, University of Texas (Galveston, TX)